At the End of the Cotentin, against All Odds, hides an Incredible Oasis of over 1,000 Species of Plants from the Southern Hemisphere...

Covering more than 4.5 Hectares (10 Acres), the Botanical Garden of Vauville is a Journey into the World under the Norman Latitudes: around the Magnificent Castle (from the XIIth and XVIth Century) walk through a Succession of Green Rooms as Exotic and Surprising, discover the Palm Groves of Trachycarpus Fortunei from China, the Moats and their Royal Ferns from Tasmania, the Impressive Pool of Gunnera manicata from Brazil, the Eucalyptus in the "Garden of Wisdom" or the Scents of the "Exotic Garden"...

Thanks to the Gulf Stream, a Warm Current in the Atlantic passing off the Coast of Vauville, there, since 1948, grow Fascinating Tropical Essences that acclimated under the Gaze of the Creator of this Little Paradise, the Botanist and Perfumer Eric Pellerin.

Real feat of the Nature, Vauville Botanical Garden distinguishes itself by its Collection of Rare Plants and Evergreens and offers throughout the Year a Panorama whose Colours blend with the Sea and the Wild Moors.

More than a Flower Garden, Vauville is known as a Set of Amazing and Original Botanical Species which each Shoot was born in Vauville and takes the Bet to accustom. In the Footsteps of Passionate and Talented Guillaume Pellerin, who created the Garden as you can admire it today with his Wife Cléopée de Turckheim, their Son Eric Pellerin continue the Beautification of this Natural Gem and Historical House and is pleased to welcome you all throughout the Season to share with you his Passion.
